Dr. Deepthiman Gowda

Deepthiman Gowda, MD, MPH, is a general internist and an Associate Professor of Medicine at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. He is the Director of Clinical Practice for the Program in Narrative Medicine and the Director of the Foundations of Clinical Medicine, which teaches medical students the art of the clinical interview, physical exam, and clinical reasoning. He is a Macy Faculty Scholar and the principal investigator of a Macy Foundation sponsored two-year study of the effect of narrative medicine on primary care staff team function and work engagement. He is a member of the New York City Board of Health.

Narrateur: Reflections on Caring published its first issue in April 2012.

With prose, poetry, photography and art from doctors, nurses, residents, medical students and others throughout Northwell Health, the Hofstra Northwell School of Medicine and Hofstra University, the journal supports our mission to promote self-reflection and compassion in taking care of our patients.
