

How to Design an Educationally Effective Curriculum for your Simulation Course

Dr. Nehal Khamis, MD, PhD, MHPE

Wednesday, March 15th 12:45 pm Lunch

1:00 pm – 3:00 pm Session

Center for Learning and Innovation (CLI 1979 Marcus Ave Suite 101)

This workshop will provide participants with a practical, yet theoretically-sound stepwise validated approach for curriculum development for simulation courses. This approach integrates criteria of simulation educational effectiveness, including objective assessment of performance, IPE and training to proficiency, into the traditional steps of curriculum development.
