

Educational Appetizer III: Ice Breakers

Micro-Faculty Development brought to you by Elisabeth Schlegel

DONALD AND BARBARA
ZUCKER SCHOOL of MEDICINE
AT HOFSTRA/NORTHWELL

Target Group

All users of Audience Response Systems

- Learner might take a while to access a web-based Audience Response system causing a rocky start to a question-driven session
- One fun way to orient students towards the access is using Ice-breaker questions such as
 - “Where is my accent from?” (The teacher’s)
 - “What is your favorite vacation spot?”
 - “Which skill do you think you possessed?” or aligned with the theme
 - “Teaching students makes me feel.....”
- Word clouds work well

Topic: Smooth use of Audience Response Technology

Poll Everywhere

🖱️ Respond at PollEv.com/som1

📱 Text SOM1 to 37607 once to join, then text your message

You can do this.....

Ice Breaker – Open Answers

How could we engage the audience during Grand Rounds?

Respond at PollEv.com/medicalschoo956

Text MEDICALSCHOO956 to 37607 once to join, then text your message

Answers to this poll are anonymous

Group work

Think Pair Share

Ice Breaker – Word Clouds are Fun & Eye Opening

I am a healthcare provider and a teacher, and I feel:

Alice Fornari

Afornari@northwell.edu

Elisabeth Schlegel

Elisabeth.Schlegel@Hofstra.edu

Ready? For Help, Contact: