

Hofstra University Museum of Art
Hofstra University Department of Fine Arts, Design, Art History

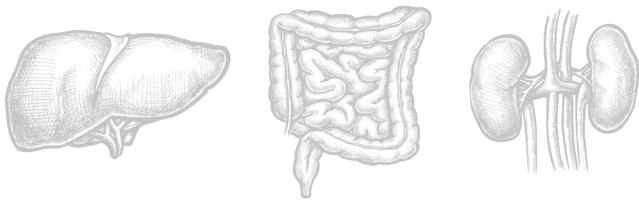

in collaboration with the

Donald and Barbara Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell, Art in Medicine Club, and the Osler Society

present

Art and Medicine Collide

A Two-Part Series

A Night at the Museum

Wednesday, February 23, 2022 • 6-7:30 p.m.

Emily Lowe Gallery, Hofstra University

Zucker School of Medicine students are invited to a basic anatomy drawing lesson taught by James Lee, MFA, associate professor of fine arts, design, art history at Hofstra University, assisted by several art students.

Robert Hill, PhD, associate professor of science education at the Zucker School of Medicine, will tie together the form and function of anatomy as it is being drawn.

No art experience or artistic talent required!

The lesson will take place in the midst of the Drawing Matters exhibition at the Emily Lowe Gallery on Hofstra's South Campus, hosted by Karen Albert, MFA, director of the Hofstra University Museum of Art.

A Night at the Medical School

Wednesday, April 6, 2022 • 6-7:30 p.m.

Rooms W104-106, Zucker School of Medicine

Zucker School of Medicine students and Hofstra University fine arts, design, art history students are invited to participate in a collaborative art project, drawing from observation of anatomical artifacts and models and skeletal remains, led jointly by James Lee, MFA, associate professor of fine arts, design, art history at Hofstra University, and Robert Hill, PhD, associate professor of science education at the Zucker School of Medicine.

This session will begin with a visit to the Zucker School of Medicine's structure lab.

DONALD AND BARBARA
ZUCKER SCHOOL of MEDICINE
AT HOFSTRA/NORTHWELL.

Capacity at each event is limited, and advance registration is required.

To register, email Lisa Martin, JD, director, Humanities in Medicine, Zucker School of Medicine, at lisa.martin@hofstra.edu.

Be sure to indicate which session(s) you plan to attend.

We are adhering to all New York state and Nassau County public health guidelines. These events are subject to cancellation or postponement.