Students may be considered for Graduation with Distinction in Research (GWDIR) if, during medical school, they have made significant progress toward a career as a physician scientist through completion of substantive body of hypothesis driven research with potential clinical, translational, basic science, or medical education impact.

Students must have significantly contributed to the design and execution of the research project, which culminated in the submission of an original article to a peer-reviewed journal. The student's contribution must meet criteria for authorship (https://medicine.hofstra.edu/research/grad-with-distinction.html).

The ACSR will consider each student's participation on a case-by-case basis and will invite qualified applicants to present their project. Final decisions are made by the ACSR following the presentation and students will be notified via email. For complete guidelines, please visit: https://medicine.hofstra.edu/research/grad-with-distinction.html

You must disclose use of generative artificial intelligence (AI) for this project.

All completed forms are to be submitted to medicine.ACSR@hofstra.edu by May 31st of the MS3 year (Cycle I) or January 1st (Cycle II) of the MS4 year. If you are invited to present your project, you are expected attend an in-person session on the first Thursday in July (Cycle I) or March (Cycle II) at 1:30pm.
